

Take Action!

Researcher

You are curious and study the subject of sustainable living carefully. You gather information, look for patterns, exchange with other researchers and stakeholders, and build understanding. You provide frameworks, models, case studies and more that clarify the problem and opportunities for thinking and action. You value knowledge in all its forms and people from academics to Indigenous peoples to local practitioners.

Resources for you:

Resources from OneEarth Living, with partners:

- Global Research Forum on Sustainable Production and Consumption – created by and for the community of researchers and practitioners engaged in research on the worldwide transition to sustainable production and consumption systems.
- SCORAI - Sustainable Consumption Research and Action Initiative – an international knowledge network of researchers and practitioners committed to building a flourishing and ecologically-sound society by changing the way we consume.

Other resources:

- Lifestyles Actions from 11 Researchers – a series of videos featuring young researchers and the actions they are taking in commemoration of World Environment Day.
- Future Earth Knowledge Action Networks on Systems of Sustainable Consumption and Production – a global network of researchers and practitioners interested in ways that sustainable consumption and production systems can be created, nurtured, and contribute to a more sustainable world, including enabling all people to lead flourishing lives within biophysical constraints.

Let us know what you find useful. Share with others and send us your suggestions at OneEarthLiving.Org/contact-us

Follow this link to learn more:

